

This is a poem that Carol Sanderson and her sister, Gillian, have found and they found it very comforting and would like to share with you.

Just close your eyes and open your heart
and feel your worries and cares depart.
Just yield yourself to the Father above
and let Him hold you secure in his love.
For life on earth grows more involved
with endless problems that can't be solved.
But God only asks us to do our best
then he will take over and finish the rest.
When you are tired and discouraged and blue
there's always one door that is open for you.
And that is the door to "The House of Prayer"
and you'll find God waiting to meet you there.
"The House of Prayer" is no farther away
than the quiet spot where you kneel and pray.
For the heart is a temple when God is there
as we place ourselves in His loving care.
And He hears every prayer and answers each one
when we pray in his name "Thy Will be Done".
Amen
